This handsome piece of silver dates back to Revolutionary times. It was made in Massachusetts, but sold by the family owning it, and taken to England, where it remained in the stock of a silver dealer until 1906, when it was brought back to this country.

It is a repoussé punch bowl, the scene represented upon it being the response of General Putnam to the call of the messenger from Lexington.

It has been held by the following companies:

CONSTITUTION.

CONSTITUTION

General Society of Sons of the Revolution.

IT BEING evident, from a steady decline of a proper celebration of the National holidays of the United States of America, that popular concern in the events and men of the war of the Revolution is gradually declining, and that such lack of interest is attributable, not so much to the lapse of time and the rapidly increasing flood of immigration from foreign countries, as to the neglect, on the part of descendants of Revolutionary heroes, to perform their duty in keeping before the public mind the memory of the services of their ancestors and of the times in which they lived; therefore, the Society of Sons of the Revolution has been instituted to perpetuate the memory of the men who, in the military, naval and civil service of the Colonies and of the Continental Congress, by their acts or counsel, achieved the independence of the country, and to further the proper celebration of the anniversaries of the birthday of Washington, and of prominent events connected with the war of the Revolution; to collect and secure for preservation the rolls, records and other documents relating to that period; to inspire the members of the Society with the patriotic spirit of their forefathers: and to promote the feeling of friendship among them.

The General Society shall be divided into State Societies, which shall meet annually on the day appointed therefor in their respective by-laws, and oftener if found expedient; and at such annual meeting the reasons for the institution of the Society shall be considered, and the best measures for carrying them into effect adopted.

The State Societies, at every annual meeting, shall choose a President, a Vice-President, a Secretary, a Registrar, a Treasurer, a Chaplain, and such other officers as may by them respectively be deemed necessary, together with a Board of Managers consisting of such officers and other members as may be provided by their respective constitutions and by-laws.

Each State Society shall cause to be transmitted annually, or oftener, to the other State Societies, a circular letter calling attention to whatever may be thought worthy of observation respecting the welfare of the Society or of the general union of the States, and giving information of the officers chosen for the year; and copies of these letters shall also be transmitted to the General Secretary, to be preserved among the records of the General Society.

The State Societies shall regulate all matters respecting their own affairs, consistent with the general good of the Society; judge of the qualifications of their members or of those proposed for membership, subject, however, to the provisions of this Constitution; and expel any member who, by conduct unbecoming a gentleman or a man of honor, or by an opposition to the interests of the community in general or of the Society in particular, may render himself unworthy to continue in membership.

In order to form funds that may be respectable, each member shall contribute, upon his admission to the Society and annually thereafter, such sums as the by-laws of the respective State Societies may require; but any of such State Societies may provide for the endowment of memberships by the payment of proper sums in capitalization, which sums shall be properly invested as a permanent fund, the income only of which shall be expended.

The regular meeting of the General Society shall be held every three years, and special meetings may be held upon the order of the General President, or upon the request of two of the State Societies, and such meetings shall consist of two delegates from each State Society, and one additional delegate for every one hundred members or major fraction thereof; and on all questions arising at meetings of the General Society each delegate there present shall be entitled to one vote, and no votes shall be taken by States; and the necessary expenses of such meeting shall be borne by the State Societies.

At the regular meeting, a General President, General Vice-President, General Second Vice-President, General Secretary, Assistant General Secretary, General Treasurer, Assistant General Treasurer, General Registrar, General Historian and General Chaplain shall be chosen by a ma-majority of the votes present, to serve until the next regular general meeting, or until their successors are duly chosen.

At each general meeting the circular letters which have been transmitted by the several State Societies shall be considered, and all measures taken which shall conduce to the general welfare of the Society.

The General Society shall have power at any meeting to admit State Societies thereto, and to entertain and determine all questions affecting the qualifications for membership in or the welfare of any State Society as may, by proper memorial, be presented by such State Society for consideration.

Any male person above the age of twenty-one years, of good character, and a descendant of one who, as a military, naval or marine officer, soldier, sailor or marine, in actual service, under the authority of any of the thirteen Colonies or States or of the Continental Congress, and remaining always loyal to such authority, or a descendant of one who signed the Declaration of Independence, or of one who, as a member of the Continental Congress or of the Congress of any of the Colonies or States, or as an official appointed by or under the authority of any such legislative bodies, actually assisted in the establishment of American independence by services rendered during the war of the Revolution, becoming thereby liable to conviction of treason against the government of Great Britain, but remaining always loyal to the authority of the Colonies or States, shall be eligible to membership in the Society.

The Secretary of each State Society shall transmit to the General Secretary a list of the members thereof, together with the names and official designations of those from whom such members derive claim to membership, and thereafter upon the admission of members in each State Society, the Secretary thereof shall transmit to the General Secretary information respecting such members similar to that herein required.

The Society shall have an insignia, which shall be a badge suspended from a ribbon by a ring of gold; the badge to be elliptical in form, with escaloped edges, one and one-quarter inches in length, and one and one-eighth inches in width; the whole surmounted by a gold eagle, with wings displayed, inverted; on the obverse side a medallion of gold in the center, elliptical in form, bearing on its face the figure of a soldier in Continental uniform, with musket slung; beneath, the figures 1775; the medallion surrounded by thirteen raised gold stars of five points each upon a border of dark blue enamel. On the reverse side, in the center, a medallion corresponding in form to that on the obverse, and also in gold, bearing on its face the Houdon portrait of Washington in bas-relief, encircled by the legend, "Sons of the Revolution;" beneath, the figures 1883; and upon the reverse of the eagle the number of the badge to be engraved; the medallion to be surrounded by a plain gold border, conforming in dimensions to the obverse; the ribbon shall be dark blue, ribbed and watered, edged with buff, one and one-quarter inches wide, and one and one-half inches in displayed length.

The insignia of the Society shall be worn by the members on all occasions when they assemble as such for any stated purpose or celebration, and may be worn on any occasion of ceremony; it shall be carried conspicuously on the left breast, but members who are or have been officers of the Society may wear the insignia suspended from the ribbon around the neck.

The custodian of the insignia shall be the General Secretary, who shall issue them to members of the Society under such proper rules as may be formulated by the General Society, and he shall keep a register of such issues wherein each insignia issued may be identified by the number thereof.

The seal of the Society shall be one and seven-eighths inches in diameter, and shall consist of the figure of a Minute-man in Continental uniform, standing on a ladder leading to a belfry; in his left hand he holds a musket and an olive branch, whilst his right grasps a bell-rope; above, the cracked Liberty Bell; issuing therefrom a ribbon bearing the motto of the Society, Exegi monumentum aere perennius; across the top of the ladder, on a ribbon, the figures 1776; and on the left of the Minute-man, and also on a ribbon, the figures 1883, the year of the formation of the Society; the whole encircled by a band three-eighths of one-inch wide; thereon at the top thirteen stars of five points each; at the bottom the name of the General Society, or of the State Society to which the seal belongs.

BY-LAWS

The Society of Sons of the Revolution in the State of New Jersey.

Section I.

MEMBERS shall be elected as follows: Candidates shall send applications (in duplicate), together with proof of qualifications for membership and one (1) dollar for each set of applications, to the Board of Managers, and, upon a favorable report from said Board, and upon payment of the initiation fee, may thereupon become members of the society.

Section II.

The initiation fee shall be ten (10) dollars; the annual dues five (5) dollars: Provided, That any member who shall have been elected during the last three months of the fiscal year shall not be required to pay the annual dues for the current fiscal year; and Provided, further, That any member failing to pay his annual dues for the term of three successive years shall be dropped from the roll of membership. The payment at one time of fifty (50) dollars shall constitute a life membership. The payment at one time of one hundred (100) dollars shall constitute a perpetual or endowed membership, and upon the death of the member so paying, the membership shall be held by his eldest son, or such other descendant from the ancestor from whom he claims as he may nominate: in failure of such nomination having been made, the Society may decide which one of the descendants shall hold the membership: Provided always, that the Society reserves to itself the privilege of rejecting any nomination that may not be acceptable to it. All those holding life or endowed memberships shall be exempt from the payment of the initiation fee and annual dues.

Any member may by a two-thirds vote of the Board of Managers be suspended or expelled from the Society, for conduct, immoral, unpatriotic or contrary to the objects and purposes of the Society: Provided, that written charges, specifying the conduct complained of be preferred against such member, or by resolution of the Board of Managers, and served on such offending member personally or by mail, with not less than two weeks' notice of the time and place where the action may be taken by the Board, and giving notice of an opportunity of a hearing before the Board.

Members of other State Societies, transferring their membership to this Society, will not be charged an initiation fee: Provided, they are in good standing in the Society from which they come, and present proper credentials.

Section III.

All initiation, life and endowed membership fees, as well as donations which shall hereafter be paid the Society, shall remain forever to the use of the Society, of which the interest only shall be used.

Section IV.

The annual meeting of the Society shall be held on the third Wednesday of May, at such place as the Board of Managers may direct. At this meeting a general election of officers by ballot shall take place. In such election a majority of the ballots given for any officer shall constitute a choice; but if, on the first ballot, no person shall receive such majority, then a further balloting shall take place, in which a plurality of votes given for any officer shall determine the choice.

Section V.

At all meetings of the Society ten (10) members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

Section VI.

The President, or in his absence the Vice-President, or in the absence of both a chairman pro tempore, shall preside at all meetings of the Society, and shall have a casting vote. He shall preserve order, and shall decide all questions of order, subject to an appeal to the Society.

Section VII.

The Secretary shall conduct the general correspondence of the Society. He shall notify all members of their election, and of such other matters as he may be directed by the Society. He shall have charge of the seal, certificate of incorporation, by-laws and records of the Society, and shall issue certificates of membership. He, together with the presiding officer, shall certify all Acts of the Society. He shall, under the direction of the President or Vice-President, give due notice of the time and place of all meetings of the Society, and attend the same. He shall keep fair and accurate records of all the proceedings and orders of the Society; and shall give notice to the several officers of all votes, orders, resolves, and proceedings of the Society affecting them or appertaining to their respective duties. He shall be Secretary of the Board of Managers and shall keep the record of their meetings in the regular minute book of the Society.*

Section VIII.

The Treasurer shall collect and keep the funds and securities of the Society; and so often as those funds shall amount to one hundred (100) dollars, they shall be deposited in some bank or trust company in the city of Trenton, N. J., to the credit of "The New Jersey Society of Sons of the Revolution," and shall be drawn thence on the check of the

* By an amendment proposed March 26th, 1896, adopted March 2d, 1897, the office of Corresponding Secretary was established.

Treasurer for the purposes of the Society only. Out of these funds he shall pay such sums as may be ordered by the Society, or by the Board of Managers. He shall keep a true account of his receipts and payments, and at each annual meeting render the same to the Society, when a committee shall be appointed to audit his accounts. He shall give such security as shall be required by the Board of Managers.

Section IX.

The Registrar shall keep a roll of members, and in his hands shall be lodged all the proofs of membership qualification, and all the historical and other papers of which the Society may become possessed; and he, under the direction of the Board of Managers, shall make copies of such similar documents as the owners thereof may not be willing to leave permanently in the keeping of the Society. The Registrar shall send to the General Registrar of the Society of Sons of the Revolution a copy of every application for membership which is favorably acted upon, and he shall also furnish the General Registrar with an abstract of the application upon a card (as furnished by the General Registrar) to serve as an index.

Section X.

The Historian shall keep a detailed record, to be deposited with the Secretary, of all the historical and commemorative celebrations of the Society; and he shall edit and prepare for publication such historical addresses, essays, papers and other documents of an historical character, other than a Register of Members, as the Secretary may be required to publish; and at every annual meeting, if there shall be a necrological list for the year then closing, he shall submit the same with carefully prepared biographies of the deceased members.

Section XI.

The Board of Managers shall consist of the officers of the Society, ex-officiis, and nine other members, all of whom shall be elected at the annual meeting. In case of a vacancy in any of these offices the Board may fill the same until the next annual election.

They shall judge of the qualifications of the candidates for admission to the Society, and, upon the recommendation of the Committee on Admissions, shall have power to elect the same to membership. They shall have charge of all special meetings of the Society and shall, through the Secretary, call special meetings at any time, upon the written request of five members of the Society, and at such other times as they see fit. They shall recommend plans for promoting the objects of the Society, shall digest and prepare business, and shall authorize the disbursement and expenditure of unappropriated money in the treasury for the payment of the current expenses of the Society. They shall generally superintend the interests of the Society, and execute all such duties as may be committed to them by the Society. At each annual meeting of the Society, they shall make a general report.

At all meetings of the Board of Managers five members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

Section XII.

The Chairman of the Board of Managers shall appoint annually three members thereof as a Committee on Admissions, whose duty it shall be to pass upon the qualifications of applicants for admission to the Society, and report to the Board of Managers.

Section XIII.

Ayes and nays shall be called at any meeting of the Society upon the demand of five members.

Section XIV.

No alteration of the By-Laws of the Society shall be made unless such alteration shall have been proposed at a previous meeting, and shall be adopted by a majority of the members present at any meeting of the Society, five (5) days' notice thereof having been given to each member.

Section XV.

1. The rosette should be worn in the upper buttonhole of the left lapel of the coat, but never on the overcoat.

Where members belong to several orders or societies having rosettes, choice should be made of one rosette; more than one should never be worn at the same time.

It is proper to wear the rosette with ordinary street or house dress. No rosette of any order or society should ever be worn at the same time with the insignia.

2. The insignia of the society should be worn by the members on all occasions when they assemble as such for any stated purpose or celebration, and may be worn on any occasion of ceremony.

The proper way of wearing the insignia is on the left breast of the coat about four inches below the middle point of the top of the left shoulder.

3. When worn with the insignia of other societies, all of them should be worn in a horizontal line.

If necessary to have more than one line, the second line will be placed below the first line, the bars from which they are suspended being parallel to the upper line of bars and three-eighths of an inch from the bottom of the lowest medal, the middle of the lowest line of bars being in the same vertical line as the middle of the upper line.

4. They will be worn in the following order of preference, beginning at the right:

- Society of the Cincinnati,
- Society of Colonial Wars,
- Order of Founders and Patriots,
- Society of the Sons of the Revolution,
- Society of the Sons of the American Revolution.
- Society of the War of 1812.

5. Members who are or have been officers of State Societies are entitled to wear the insignia suspended from the ribbon around the neck, and are recommended for the dignity of the Society so to wear it, but this ribbon should be used only with a dress suit or uniform. In the case of a dress suit the insignia should be drawn up within an inch of the tie. In the case of a uniform it should hang close to the opening of the military collar.

6. Members who are or have been officers of the General Society are entitled to wear the broad ribbon across the breast, and are recommended for the dignity of the Society to wear it, but this ribbon should be used only with a dress suit or uniform. In the case of a dress suit, it should be worn under the waistcoat; in the case of a uniform it should be worn over the coat. The neck ribbon should not be used at the same time as the broad ribbon. When the latter is worn the insignia may be worn on the left breast, or suspended from the broad ribbon where the latter crosses the hip.

7. Neither the insignia nor the rosette of the society may be worn by a member who has resigned or who has been suspended or expelled.

PATRIOTIC HYMN

Tune, "Ancient of Days."

Lord God of Hosts, Who led our fathers hither
And gave this western strand to Freedom's cause,
We praise Thy Name, Whose mercies never wither,
And pledge obedience to Thy righteous laws.

Our fathers hoped in Thee and trusted surely;
Thou didst deliver by Thy mighty Hand;
Under the shadow of Thy wings securely
Dwelt they at freedom in this favored land.

To us their sons give of Thy grace abounding
That we may cherish liberty and law,
By justice strong all baser breeds confounding
Who hold not Thee, nor Righteousness in awe.

From foes without and foes within assailing
Keep Thou our Country through the changing days,
From Mammon's pride and Anarchy's prevailing
Guard Thou the State and prosper all her ways.

O God we pray through centuries unceasing
That this dear Land may be with freedom bright
In justice strong and ever still increasing
In peace and health, prosperity and right.
